

Where am I going to start? What am I going to say? The world looks more and more like a Balagan and it is. But there is a sinister force who is working in the shadows encouraging and directing and financing all of this confusion. They even managed to dupe the people who seem to be on the side of good. They tricked them into thinking that maybe now they are winning their freedom, but it's all a lie. It was all created like a movie script which shows how the evil and its representatives in this world have totally conquered humanity and like in a chess game or any type of game, are manipulating the moves on the playing board while making the players feel that they, in their extreme intelligence or lack of intelligence, have any control over who wins or loses.

I guess this sounds a bit cryptic but I will try to explain myself more clearly and more to the point.

There is a group of totally despicable, horrible representatives of the Satan who have total control over this world. Of course they only think they have and Hashem is encouraging them to think like this. They have been able to have tremendous Siyata Dishmaya in what they are doing, and what they are doing is so evil and it is so twisted that even hearing of the distorted acts that they are guilty of could make a normal person throw up in disgust.

We have a picture of a world in total chaos and total confusion. Who is the good guy and who is the bad guy? To the average person this is a big question. To moral people the answer is obvious.

The next few months, starting with spring time, are going to be very bloody all over the world. Many professional agitators will be at work in the whole world turning people against each other. When things get to a very high pitch, when law and order has totally fallen by the way, then most countries will be taken over, if it hasn't happened already, by these selected armies and police who have been trained not to worry about the wails of mothers and the screams of dying children whether it is from hunger, or natural disasters, or a bullet in the head, Chas Vesholom. These soldiers have been trained in what is called Urban Warfare which means just taking over the cities and killing as many people as you can. All of this should be taking place as the winter becomes summer and as the summer sun heats up the world. This is only the beginning of the end because the Reshoim think that they can get into their bunkers easily without notice while everyone else will be busy trying to make sense out of the chaos or just trying to stay alive. It will be a madhouse!

One thing is for sure, though the heavenly solar system that is heading towards us is Hashem's Shaliach to destroy almost all of the world with most of its people and thereby finishing the Cheshbon of the sin of the first man and his wife and the snake. Most of the world will be destroyed and also finally the Nochosh, the snake will be Shechted (ritually slaughtered) and all those that are his followers for all generations will be with him in his sorry death. Then the rest of the world with its remaining population, especially the Yidden in Eretz Yisroel, will know joy beyond anything our imaginations could understand in any way and we will be ready to go up to the next level without the weight of all the evil that man received in his essence when the snake convinced Chava to eat from the fruit of the tree of knowledge and to persuade her husband to do the same. That will be the final Tikkun of the world that we have known until this moment. We will be free finally of the Chet of the first man and ready to continue life on a much higher level. Hashem will rejoice with us but mourn the people that He created and that failed the test.
